The Property

Believed to date from the early 1800s, 3 Factory Cottages has been beautifully renovated without losing any of its period character. Combining exposed timbers, stonework and original features with a high-quality finish throughout, it comes to the market with no onward chain.

The ground floor flows naturally between the sitting room, dining room and kitchen, creating comfortable, connected living spaces full of character. The sitting room centres on a brick-arched fireplace with a log burner beneath a timber mantel and slate hearth. The dining room enjoys French doors opening onto the front garden, while the kitchen is finished with dark cabinetry, granite worktops and a butler sink beneath the window.

The bathroom reflects the quality of the renovation, with a freestanding-style bath beneath tongue-and-groove panelling, a walk-in shower finished with metro tiling, and a twin ceramic vanity on a timber stand, complemented by exposed stonework and rich, deep tones. A separate utility room provides space for laundry appliances, with the boiler neatly wall-mounted above.

Upstairs are three bedrooms, each enjoying exposed A-frame beams and characterful sloping ceilings. The master bedroom benefits from its own ensuite WC tucked beneath the eaves, while the remaining two are comfortable double bedrooms, one fitted with timber wardrobes.

Outside, a paved and gravelled front garden provides an attractive approach to the cottage. To the rear, a balcony sits above the brook, while the main garden lies beyond the terrace, with a patio and far-reaching views across the surrounding countryside.

A particularly rare feature for a cottage of this size is the substantial detached shed. Large enough to accommodate both a garage and workshop, it benefits from power and lighting, making it equally suited to hobbies, storage, a home workshop or secure parking for vehicles and motorbikes. A log store sits to the rear, while generous off-road parking completes the outside space.

Full of character and thoughtfully renovated throughout, 3 Factory Cottages combines period charm with excellent outside space, generous parking and a substantial workshop, making it a rare find in the heart of the popular village of Trefeglwys.

The Location

Trefeglwys is a small, welcoming village set in the scenic Trannon

Valley in Mid Wales. Surrounded by rolling countryside, it's a place that offers a slower pace of life, ideal for those looking to enjoy the outdoors, raise a family, or settle into a more peaceful routine.

The village is home to a well-regarded primary school, a community hall hosting multiple local groups and activities, village playground, places of worship, and The Red Lion; a friendly local pub.

Just outside the village is Meadow Springs Country & Leisure Park, which recently won "Best Caravan, Camping, Glamping" category at the National Tourism Awards organised by the Welsh Government and Visit Wales. Meadow Springs features Arthur's Restaurant & Bar - an extremely popular new hospitality venue.

For anyone interested in pursuing outdoor activities the opportunities are endless. Trefeglwys is under 6 miles from the Llyn Clywedog Dam, a 615 acre reservoir built on the head waters of the river Severn in the late sixties, offering scenic walking and cycling routes as well as trout fishing through the local Angling Club.

The beautiful neighbouring Mid Wales town of Llanidloes has much to offer residents and visitors alike. It is home to the iconic Market Hall which is the oldest timber-framed market hall still in situ in Wales.

The town itself is packed with amenities including a dentists, Medical Centre, cottage hospital, Primary School, Secondary School with Welsh and English language streams, pubs, cafes, take-aways and a wide range of shops ranging from butchers / fishmongers / bakeries / greengrocers to an independent book shop and artisanal boutiques.

Trefeglwys is also close to Caersws with a Train Station and links to Bus Routes.

Trefeglwys combines rural charm with access to high-quality leisure facilities, all within a close-knit and friendly community—making it a great place to call home.
