The Property

Holters are delighted to present Bronllys, a truly special 19th-century former farmhouse on the edge of Mochdre village. Enjoying far-reaching valley views and set within approx. 2.75 acres, this much-loved home has been in the same family since 1983 and is now offered with no ongoing chain.

The accommodation is arranged over two floors, with period detail and original character throughout. You enter into the kitchen, currently compact but with space for a breakfast table. It adjoins a large storeroom, offering excellent potential to create a spacious kitchen-diner suited to modern family living. From the kitchen a utility room provides further workspace and a staircase to the first floor.

The main living room is a generous and welcoming space, with exposed beams, a substantial stone hearth housing a log burner, and wide windows framing the views. An adjoining study leads through to the dining room, which retains a wealth of character with its beamed ceiling and outlook over the gardens — a room as suited to family meals as it is to more formal occasions. Beyond lies a porch that also serves as a practical boot room. A ground-floor shower room with washbasin and WC is also found on this level.

The first floor offers three bedrooms, each with its own character. The main bedroom is a generous space with a built-in cupboard and three windows, one of which frames the valley view. Two further double bedrooms each have their own character and enjoy views over the surrounding countryside. A family bathroom with bath, washbasin and WC is also found on this floor.

Outside, the cottage gardens wrap around the house, with lawns, established planting and several places to sit and take in the views. A patio area with a brick-built barbecue lies directly off the kitchen, making it an ideal spot for morning coffee or summer entertaining. The orchard includes a variety of fruit trees and berry bushes, a reminder of the property's long family ownership. In all, the gardens extend to around three-quarters of an acre.

At the lower end of the garden stands a detached stone bothy. This characterful building has two rooms on the ground floor, one with a fireplace and the other with stairs rising to the first floor. Above is a large room with windows looking out towards the valley. With vision and subject to planning consent, it offers clear potential as an annexe, holiday cottage or workspace.

A private driveway leads up to the property, providing off-road parking and access to a double garage at the top.

Across the lane at the head of the drive is a paddock of approx. two acres, included within the sale. Well-suited to smallholding use, keeping animals, or simply for rural pastimes, it adds valuable flexibility to the property.

Bronllys is a home full of character and history, set in a peaceful position with views, gardens and land that make it truly special. It is the kind of property you can fall in love with — a private hideaway offering an escape to the country and a new chapter for its next owner.

The Location

Mochdre is a small rural village located just over three miles west of Newtown in Powys, Mid Wales. Surrounded by open countryside, farmland, and wooded hills, the village offers a peaceful setting while still being within easy reach of key amenities and transport routes. The community includes a mix of traditional and modern homes, and enjoys a quiet, spacious environment typical of the Mid Wales landscape.

One of the village's key features is The Dolau Inn, a well-known local pub and restaurant, popular with both residents and visitors. It offers a relaxed atmosphere, food, and regular events, helping to support a sense of community within the area.

Just a short drive away, Newtown provides a wide range of services including supermarkets, independent shops, cafés, medical centres, and leisure facilities. The town is also home to several schools and Newtown College, offering further education and training options. A mainline railway station connects Newtown to Shrewsbury, the Midlands, and beyond, making the area suitable for commuters or those needing regular access to larger towns and cities.

The nearby A489 gives convenient road access in both directions—eastwards to Welshpool and Shrewsbury, and westwards to Machynlleth and the coast. Mochdre's location is ideal for those who enjoy the outdoors, with walking routes, bridleways, and cycling opportunities all close by.

This combination of rural charm, access to services, and strong transport links makes Mochdre a practical and appealing location for a wide range of buyers, including those looking to relocate, invest, or enjoy a quieter pace of life without being cut off from day-to-day needs.
