The Property

Tucked away in a quiet residential spot in the village of Llandinam, 1 Chapel Field is a well-kept detached home that's comfortable, practical and ready to move straight into. It's the kind of house that's been sensibly looked after and improved, offering a straightforward move for someone wanting to get on with life rather than take on a project.

The accommodation is arranged over two floors. On the ground floor, there is a welcoming entrance hall with a downstairs cloakroom and stairs rising to the first floor. The sitting room is a good-sized, light-filled space, with sliding doors opening directly onto the rear garden, making it easy to use throughout the year.

The kitchen is a genuine standout feature and has been recently refitted with a Nobilia kitchen, a well-regarded German manufacturer known for quality and clever design. It has been thoughtfully planned and is packed with useful features, including excellent storage, integrated appliances and a central island that naturally anchors the room. It feels solid, practical and easy to live with, and has clearly been designed to be used properly rather than simply look good. A separate utility room sits alongside, keeping everyday jobs out of the main living space, with internal access through to the garage.

Upstairs, the landing leads to three well-proportioned bedrooms, all ready to move straight into, along with a modern family bathroom with both a bath and separate shower.

Outside, the rear garden has been completely re-landscaped by the current owners to create a lovely, usable space that works well throughout the seasons. There is a well-kept lawn alongside patio seating areas, making it just as suited to summer barbecues as it is to a quiet coffee on a crisp winter morning. It's a straightforward, well-considered space that's ready to be enjoyed. Driveway parking and an integral garage complete the picture.

A well-presented village home that's ready to move into. For more information or to arrange a viewing of 1 Chapel Field, please contact Holters.

The Location

Llandinam village is located in the heart of Montgomeryshire, on the A470 between Llanidloes and Newtown. The village is rich in history being the former home of David Davies, famed 19th Century Industrialist and Philanthropist. To this day the village has a vibrant community and boasts a village pub, a popular primary school, nursery and forest school, weekly post-office services and a well supported Village Hall which hosts a range of events from coffee mornings to exercise classes.

For anyone interested in pursuing outdoor activities the opportunities are endless. Llandinam is under 10 miles from the Llyn Clywedog Dam, a 615 acre reservoir built on the head waters of the river Severn in the late sixties, offering scenic walking and cycling routes as well as trout fishing through the local Angling Club.

The beautiful neighbouring Mid Wales town of Llanidloes has much to offer residents and visitors alike. It is home to the iconic Market Hall which is the oldest timber-framed market hall still in situ in Wales.

The town itself is packed with amenities including a dentists, Medical Centre, cottage hospital, Primary School, Secondary School with Welsh and English language streams, pubs, cafes, take-aways and a wide range of shops ranging from butchers / fishmongers / bakeries / greengrocers to an independent book shop and artisanal boutiques.

The property is just off the A470 a main visitor route into Mid Wales. It is served by local bus routes and is close to Caersws and Newtown train stations.
