Viewing essential.

Denise White Estate Agents Comments

Tucked away just moments from the heart of the vibrant market town of Leek, this quirky two bedroom terraced home offers characterful accommodation brimming with rustic charm and individuality. Ideally suited to first-time buyers or investors alike, the property enjoys a convenient location within easy walking distance of Leek's excellent selection of independent shops, cafés, bars and eateries.

Internally, the home provides warm and inviting living spaces, beginning with a cosy ground floor lounge featuring a log burning stove, creating a welcoming focal point. The lounge leads through to a spacious breakfast kitchen, with exposed brickwork, fitted with a range of rustic wooden units complemented by wood block work surfaces and offering space for a freestanding range-style cooker. There is ample room for a dining table and chairs, making this an ideal space for both everyday living and entertaining, with access to a useful utility room.

From the Kitchen, a wrought iron staircase rises to the first floor, where there are two well-proportioned double bedrooms and a compact yet practical shower room.

Externally, the property continues to impress with an excellent rear garden, thoughtfully arranged with paved pathways leading through gravelled sections to a patio seating area with a wooden pergola – perfect for outdoor relaxation. An additional benefit is the rear alleyway providing access through to the front of the property.

Combining charm, character and a highly convenient town centre location, this delightful home must be viewed to be fully appreciated. Viewing is highly recommended.

Location

Known as the 'Queen of the Staffordshire Moorlands', Leek is a former textile town with a long and fascinating history.

The unspoilt town centre offers a refreshing alternative from modern shopping malls and has a wealth of independent shops, including former silk mills housing antique and reproduction pine centres, as well as traditional and contemporary furnishings.

Delicious local produce can be found in abundance at traditional butchers, bakers, greengrocers, delicatessens and cafes. Leek is also home to speciality producers of condiments, confectionery, preserves, wine, whisky, craft beers and the traditional Staffordshire oatcake.

Traditional markets abound, both indoors in the beautifully restored Victorian Butter Market and outdoors in the Market Place, offering everything from general goods, antiques and collectables to fine foods and special 'Totally Locally' Sunday markets. And when it comes to wining and dining, you can choose from a tempting selection of cafés, real ale pubs and restaurants.

Further afield, you'll find the unique, tooth-like rock formations of The Roaches, Rudyard Lake with its picturesque setting and narrow gauge railway and Tittesworth Water, a popular and accessible attraction for visitors of all ages.
