STOWMARKET:

Stowmarket is a market town situated in Suffolk close to the A14 trunk road between Bury St Edmunds to the west and Ipswich to the southeast. The town is on the main railway line between London and Norwich, and lies on the River Gipping, which is joined by its tributary, the River Rat, to the south of the town. The town takes its name from the Old English word stow meaning ‘principal place’, and was granted a market charter in 1347 by Edward III.
