For Sale Freehold Offers In The Region Of £400,000

Built in stone in the late 1800s and thoughtfully updated since, this Victorian end-terrace home is far bigger and more surprising than its frontage suggests. Behind electric gates you'll find a private driveway, a heated garden room with bi-fold doors, and 1,251 sq ft of living space set over three floors.

Step outside and you're in proper village country. Farmland and woodland walks start close to home, The Hare and Hounds is a short stroll away, and West Ardsley still has the kind of community where neighbours know each other by name. Leeds and Wakefield are within easy reach, and the M62 and M1 are minutes away. West Ardsley offers the best of both worlds: a real village with countryside on the doorstep, yet within easy reach of the cities.

From the front door you can head straight out onto farmland and woodland walks, ideal for dog walkers, runners and families. Afterwards, The Hare and Hounds, the village pub, is a short stroll away. The community feel is genuine, the sort of place people move to and stay. The village calendar is a big part of life here. The Hare and Hounds and the West Ardsley Community group host themed events at Christmas, Easter, Halloween and Bonfire Night, which are well known locally and enjoyed by all ages. Numerous groups, such as the local choir and book club, also meet at The Hare and Hounds each week. Families are well served. The respected Hill Top Primary School is in the village, The Westerton Primary Academy is easily reached, and Woodkirk Academy secondary school is less than a mile away. The M62 and M1 are close by, and both Leeds and Wakefield city centres are within a 30-minute drive. Batley is the nearest station, and Wakefield Westgate and Dewsbury are both within a 15-minute drive. Between them they offer direct trains to London, Leeds, York, Newcastle, Edinburgh, Manchester and Liverpool.

Only a full internal inspection will reveal all that's on offer at this quality home and an early viewing comes highly recommended.
